

IMPORTANT

Authors are recommended to strictly follow the format in order to facilitate the publication of their paper. The Journal of Food Stability does not charge any article processing fee. The full cooperation from authors is required.

GUIDE FOR AUTHORS

Manuscript categories

Research papers, Short research reports and Review articles are acceptable in this Journal. However, Authors should make sure the manuscript they are submitting has not been published or submitted for publication elsewhere. Duplicated submission papers detected by the Journal will render immediate rejection. Accepted papers become the copyright of the Journal.

✓ Research article

The papers should contain no more than 25 typewritten pages or up to 7500 words, not including references, tables and figures. Previously reported methods should be referenced only. The number of references should not exceed 40 (except for review articles). Articles should be as concise as possible, while providing sufficient information for the work to be repeated and for the claims of the authors to be judged by the readers.

✓ Short research reports

They should be condensed to 8 typewritten pages or not more than 3000 words excluding references and a maximum of four illustrations (Tables and figures).

✓ Review Articles

Review articles can provide concise and critical updates on a subject of current interest. They are contributed by scientists who are leading specialists in their field of expertise. It should normally focus on literature published over the previous five years and should not exceed 10,000 words excluding references. It should not contain more than five tables and figures combined and should have a maximum of 110 references.

Preparation of Manuscripts

Authors are advised to follow the guideline to prepare their manuscript accordingly. A single word processor containing all sections of the manuscript (Title page information, main text, figures and tables) should be submitted as a single file (Microsoft Office Word).

Authorship

Only authors whose names appear on the paper must have made contribution to its preparation, whether in the design and/or analysis and interpretation of the data/or drafting of the paper. All authors must have critically reviewed and approved the final version of the manuscript before submission. It is necessary for the contributors to suggest at least three potential reviewers and provide their contact details, field of expertise. A cover letter should contain all these information.

Language

The Journal of Food Stability is a bilingual Journal. Manuscripts are accepted in English and French. Manuscript to be submitted should be ensured written in clear and comprehensive English or French. Authors whose native language is not French or English are strongly advised to have their papers checked by English-speaking or French-speaking colleagues respectively, prior submission. It is the author responsibility to make sure there is not grammar and spelling errors.

Originality

Manuscripts submitted to this Journal must be of original work. The Journal of Food Stability is strongly against plagiarism and self-plagiarism and will ensure that all manuscripts submitted should be free of any plagiarism, falsifications, or omission of significant material.

Manuscript style

Manuscripts should be prepared to follow the J. Food. Stab guide for Preparation of Manuscripts in detail. Manuscripts should be submitted in 12 points, Times New Roman font, with 1.5 line spacing and sufficient margins of 2.5 cm. The text should not be formatted. Each page must be numbered, and lines must be consecutively numbered from the start to the end of the manuscript. The corresponding author should be identified (include a valid E-mail address). Full postal and email addresses must be given for all co-authors.

Cover Letter

A cover letter should be included with each manuscript submission. It should be concise and explain why the content of the paper is significant, placing the findings in the context of existing work and why it fits the scope of the journal. Confirm that neither the manuscript nor any parts of its content are currently under consideration or published in another journal.

Title page

The title of a paper should be brief and informative, reflecting the purpose and contents of the work. For all manuscripts, the title, name (s), mailing address, telephone number, fax number, e-mail address, and affiliation of author (s) should be given.

Abstract

Please provide an abstract of 300 words containing the major keywords summarizing the article. References should be avoided in the abstract. Also, non-standard or uncommon abbreviations should be avoided, but if essential they must be defined at their first mention in the abstract itself. A practical application of the research findings should be given (100 words maximum).

Keywords

Please provide four to six keywords.

Main Text

The paper should be divided into clearly defined and numbered sections. Subsections should be numbered 1.0 (then 1.1., 1.2, ...), 2.0, etc. (abstract is not included in section numbering). Any subsection may be given a brief heading. Each heading should appear on its own separate line. Line and manuscript pages should be numbered.

Introduction

The introduction should briefly place the study in a broad context and highlight why it is important. It should define the purpose of the work and its significance, including specific hypotheses being tested. The current state of the research field should be reviewed carefully and key publications cited. Finally, it should mention the main aim of the work.

Material and Methods

Sufficient details should be provided to allow the work to be reproduced by an independent researcher. Already published methods should be summarized, and indicated by a reference. Any modifications to existing methods should be described. The section related to statistical analysis should have information on applied statistical tests and programs.

Results

Provide a concise and precise description of the experimental results.

Discussion

This should explore the significance of the results of the work, not repeat them. A combined Results and Discussion section is appropriate. Extensive citations and discussion of published reports should be avoided.

Conclusions

The main conclusions of the study should be presented in a short Conclusions section, which must stand alone.

Tables

Please submit tables as editable text and not as images. Tables should be placed on separate page(s) at the end of the manuscript. Number tables consecutively in accordance with their appearance in the text and place any table notes below the table body. A short descriptive title should appear above each table with a clear legend and any footnotes suitably identified below. All units must be included.

Figures

Figures and photographs should be numbered with Arabic numerals and placed on separate page (s) at the end of the manuscript. Ensure that each illustration has a caption. Supply captions directly after each figure. A caption should comprise a brief title (not on the figure itself) and a description of the illustration. Keep text in the illustrations themselves to a minimum but explain all symbols and abbreviations used. Figures should be submitted in color.

Graphical abstract

Authors should submit a graphical abstract of their work while submitting their paper. Note that the submission of the graphical abstract is mandatory. The graphic should capture the reader attention and, in conjunction with the manuscript's title, give the reader a quick visual impression of the paper content. The graphical abstract should be submitted as supplementary material in JPEG. Examples are shown in the journal page.

References

References should be prepared according to the APA style guide, 6th Edition. Citations should follow the author-date method whereby the author's last name and the year of publication for the source should appear in the text, for example, (Djikeng, 2018) for one author, (Iqbal and Bhanger, 2007) for two authors and (Djikeng et al., 2017) for more than two authors. The complete reference list should appear alphabetically by name at the end of the paper. Journal names are not to be abbreviated. They should be typed in full (See examples below). Unpublished work should not be cited in the manuscript.

Journal article

Tonfack Djikeng, F., Teyomnou, W. T., Tenyang, N., Tiencheu, B., Morfor, T. A., Hako Touko, B. A., Houketchang, S. N., Boungo, G. T., Karuna, M. S. L., Ngoufack, F. Z., & Womeni, H. M. (2018). Effect of traditional and oven roasting on the physicochemical properties of fermented cocoa beans. Journal of Food Processing and Preservation, 4, 444-410.

Book

Ramarathnam, N., Ochi, H., & Takeuchi, M. (1997). Antioxidant defense system in vegetable extracts. In: Shahidi F (ed) Natural antioxidants: chemistry health effects and applications. AOCS Press, Champaign, pp 76–87

Internet

Tuete, L. (2018, July 10). How to formulate and preserve chocolate (Video file). Retrieved from <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Vja83KLQXZs>

Thesis

Tonfack, D. F. (2016). Stabilization of palm olein by the methanolic extracts of three plants during storage at High Temperature: (Camellia sinensis L., Annona muricata L. and Zingiber officinale R. Ph.D Thesis, University of Dschang, Cameroon 200p.

Proceedings/Seminars/Conference papers

Djikeng, D. F., Dongmo, J. R., Womeni, H. M., & Linder, M. (2014). Use of some Cameroonian Plants essential oils as natural antioxidants for stabilization of RBD palm olein during deep-fat frying of Plantain Chips. Proceedings, 4th Life Science's Conference, August 7th-8th, University of Dschang, Cameroon. Tome 1. Page 148-149.

Standard

International Dairy Federation (IDF) (1991). International IDF Standard 74A, Brussels, Belgium.

Conflict of Interest Statement

Authors will be asked to provide a conflict of interest statement during the submission process.

Acknowledgments

Contributions from anyone who does not meet the criteria for authorship should be listed, with permission from the contributor, in an Acknowledgments section. Financial and material support should also be mentioned.

Checklist

The authors can use this list to carry out a final check of your submission before you send it to the journal for review. Please make sure the following are available during your submission:

- ✓ Cover letter
- ✓ Title page
- ✓ Abstract
- ✓ Keywords
- ✓ Introduction
- ✓ Material and Methods
- ✓ Results& Discussion
- ✓ Conclusions
- ✓ Conflict of interest
- ✓ Acknowledgements
- ✓ References
- ✓ Figures and captions (if any)
- ✓ Tables and captions (if any)
- ✓ Graphical abstract

Additional considerations

- ✓ Manuscript has been 'spell and 'grammar checked'
- ✓ All references mentioned in the Reference List are cited in the text, and vice versa

- ✓ Permission has been obtained for use of copyrighted material from other sources
- ✓ A competing interests statement is provided, even if the authors have no competing interests to declare
- ✓ Manuscript was prepared according to the journal guideline
- ✓ Three Referees and their contact details have been provided

Submission

The Journal accepts manuscripts (Microsoft Office word) via email (j.food.stability@gmail.com) and online.

Authors are advised to submit their manuscript along with a cover letter and the names, Email addresses, phone numbers, Institution and country of three selected reviewers. Reviewers must be from your research field.

Please indicate MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION in the subject of the email (For manuscript submitted via Email).

After acceptance

Once the paper is accepted for publication, authors are informed with an email notification on the decision of their manuscript with the acceptance letter. Authors are recommended to strictly follow the format in order to facilitate the publication of their paper. The Journal of Food Stability does not charge any article processing fee. The full cooperation from authors is required.

Proofs

Page proofs will be sent to the designated authors via email. They must be carefully checked and returned within 72 hours of receipt. Any change in e-mail address from the time the manuscript was submitted must be communicated to the Editor-in-Chief via email (j.food.stability@gmail.com).

